Two Best Practices of the institution

Best Practice –I

(A) Best Practice-I

1) Title: Tribute to A. P. J. Abdul Kalam by Extra working

2) Goals:

- i. To Pay tribute to Late A. P. J. Abdul Kalam
- ii. To Inculcate the moral values of great persons in to minds of students
- iii. To Introduce the innovative work culture amongst students through actions and not by thoughts only

3) The Context:

The college gives prime importance to work culture by action. One of the ways to ensure this work culture is to start from ourselves. Most of times we observe special days tribute by enjoying the holidays. But to inculcate the moral values like work culture beyond time we pay tribute to Dr. A. P. J. Abdul Kalam by conducting the college on one holiday.

4) The Practice:

From Last three years we pay tribute to our Late President Dr. A. P. J. Abdul Kalam by working extra on the holiday. College announces the Tribute day every year after 24th August. This day is purposely selected as holiday and notice is issued to all the students with the additional timetable. Periods and practical's are conducted on the same day as per the timetable.

5) Evidence of Success:

Almost all the students are attended their theory and practical classes on that day. The College conducted the programme in the memories of Late Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam. Media has also given the coverage to this innovative and best practices conducted by our college.

6) Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

The problem for implementation of the practice is that few out stationed staff are not able to work on these days. Due to Bank holiday we could not work financial transition on this day.

No additional resources are required to conduct the practice.

Best Practice –II

Title: Chemistry in the Week

Objectives of the practise:

- ✓ To create the scientific awareness among the students.
- ✓ To inculcate the habit of personal documentation.
- ✓ To motivate the students for research.
- ✓ To introduce the students about innovations in Chemistry & scientists in Chemistry.

The Context:

Most of the students are always participating in various competitions like elocution, poetry recital, debating, sports, cultural events etc. Not only these but many students are also participating in the social activities and scientific programmes. But all these activities are not able to record their contribution in academic Mark list. But this activity- Chemistry in the Week- is most important part of their scientific awareness. This practice is one step ahead in this regard.

The Practice:

The students are informed about this practice known as Chemistry in the Week. The students are asked to collect the information which appears in newspaper, science journals and from various websites related to science. Accordingly, the students collect the information in connection with Chemistry (Physical, Inorganic, Organic, Pharmaceutical and Analytical). They also collect the information about the scientists in Chemistry. The students collect the information regarding Chemistry and display this information on the notice board.

Evidence of Success:

Every week 4 to 5 students collect the information and display and keep the record with department. All the students are aware regarding what happens in the area of Chemistry in a week in general and what are the innovations in Chemistry particularly to science students.

Problems Encountered and Resource Requirement:

As there are less number of journals in science are subscribed by the college, there are limitations on the part of students to collect the information. Interruptions in Internet connectivity encounters the problems to collect the information in due course. Fast internet connectivity and personnel computers are required.
